

EXPLOSION KILLS MANY

FIFTEEN BODIES FOUND DEAD IN PRIMERO COLORADO
MINE.

ONE HUNDRED THOUGHT DEAD

Miners Being Rushed to Scene of Explosion for Rescue Work.
Scene Underground One
of Horror.

Primero, Colo., Feb. 1.—Over 100 men are believed to have been killed by a terrific explosion in the Primero mine of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company at 4:30 yesterday afternoon.

Fifteen bodies have been recovered and rescue parties are making desperate efforts to reach the interior workings, cut off from the outside by the caving of the main shaft.

At tonight at 10 o'clock fifteen men's bodies had been recovered from one of the main slopes. The bodies were literally blown to pieces and were unrecognizable.

The workings were reached through the air shaft and are now being searched for more bodies.

Miners were rushed to Primero from Trinidad, Segundo, Starkville, Sopris and Cokeville and are laboring frantically to clear the main shaft, relieving each other every few minutes. It is impossible to determine how much of the main shaft has caved and it may be days before the shaft is cleared and the total death list known. There is little hope that any of the men are alive.

The company clerk reports that seventy-nine safety lamps are missing and it is sure that number of men are entombed.

Many of the miners, however, say that 150 men are missing. Most of them are Slavs and Hungs. Pit Boss Wilhelm is known to be among the missing.

Scene One of Horror.

The camp is a scene of indescribable horror tonight. While every able-bodied man is taking his turn to clear the shaft, the women and children, kept back by ropes, have gathered about the shaft weeping and calling wildly upon their loved ones who have not been found.

Experts from all the coal camps of the state have been gathered to assist Superintendent Thompson.

A. C. French, superintendent of the Wooten mines, and J. E. Minter, mine inspector, will head another rescue party as soon as batteries for electric lights arrive by special train.

Members of the first rescue party
say that the effect of the explosion underground is indescribable. The bodies recovered were horribly burned and unrecognizable. One body was impaled on broken timbers.

PAVING BILL IS AWARDED

SHELBY DOWNARD OF ARDMORE
BIDDER.

TOTAL BID IS $83,263.59

Lowest Bid Entered Is by E. C.
D'Yarnette of Oklahoma City,
Who States He Will Contest Action.

The paving contract of thirteen blocks on Main, Broadway and Townsend streets, which has been haunting the city council for a number of weeks was awarded at the regular meeting last night, the Shelby Downard company of Ardmore being the successful bidder at the figures of $83,263.59, the price being $1.80 a square yard for the 38,680 square yards.

All other business was suspended, with the exception of one labor bill which was badly needed by C. A.
Anderson. The bill was an old one and was allowed.

Didn't Want Repetition.

Remembering the long drawn out wrangle resulting from the engineer's fee which was so conspicuous at the other meeting at the opening of the bids, Councilman Sims made a little talk in which he stated he wanted the engineer's fee thoroughly thrashed out before anything else was done so as to avoid a squabble of two hours or more. This understood, all visitors were driven out of the council chambers, the body going into executive session, and the bids were opened and read which were as follows:

Metropolitan Construction company of Kansas City, 38,680 square yards at $2 per yard, $86,633, work to begin April 1 and be completed within 100 work days.

Parker-Washington company, of St.
Louis, at $1.81 per yard, $85,810.05,
work to begin March 25 and be completed in 200 days.

Shelby Downard company of Ardmore, at $1.80 per yard, $83,263.59,
work to begin April 1 and be completed in 180 days.

E. C. D'Yarnette of Oklahoma City, at $1.80 per yard $83,221.30, work to begin March 30 and be completed in 180 days.

Contract Awarded.

The total of Mr. D'Yarnette's bid was made by that gentleman as $79-531.30, which was a mistake and was corrected to $83,221.30, a difference of only $42.29 between his bid and the bid of Shelby Downard, his being cheaper than the latter company.

D'Yarnette Wants Reason.

When the accepted bidder was announced Mr. D'Yarnette demanded a statement of the council as to why he was not given the contract since his bid was the lowest one entered.
He was told that he had admitted that he has had no experience with rock asphalt paving and for that reason the contract was awarded to the next lowest bidder who has had experience with this sort of paving.

D'Yarnette insisted that he had competent men in his employ who have handled the rock asphalt, and said he didn't think he was given fair play. He also stated his intention of contesting the matter in the courts.

Another Meeting Wednesday.

The water committee was directed to notify all parties interested to have in their bids on next Monday night for the sprinkling job.

There is a lot of business which needs dispatching and a special meeting is called for tomorrow (Wednesday) night.

Money in Chewing Gum.

New York, Feb. 1.—Dividends
amounting to 18 per cent on the common and 6 per cent on the preferred stock have been declared by the American Chicle company, which now controls about 85 per cent of the country's chewing gum output.

CRISIS IN PARIS BELIEVED PAST

SITUATION IS MUCH IMPROVED TODAY.

Relief Work Progressing Rapidly and Speedy Disinfection Has Been Ordered.

Paris, Feb. 1.—The improvement in the general situation continues and the spirits of Paris are rising as the waters fall. The street hawkers are selling post card pictures of the flood and the boulevards are once more gay with rejoicing thousands.

With the crisis past, the mercurial
French temperament faces the subsidiary troubles with a light heart, but the papers already are sounding a note of warning that the lesson must not be forgotten; that measures must be taken to avoid repetition of the disaster. This can be done by the construction of a cut-off either in the way of a canal or a large underground conduit around Paris.

Speedy Disinfection Ordered.

The Perfect of the Department of the Seine has issued instructions to the owners of flooded houses to clean and disinfect their premises to the satisfaction of the municipal architects within two hours after the subsidence of the waters. Otherwise, the work will be done at the cost and risk of the owners.

The government has ordered the Tax Collectors to show the greatest leniency to delinquents, and the mont de pieté is extending pawn tickets for three months.

Pumping Water from Subway.

Several steam trains today resumed the work of pumping out the subway and considerable progress is being made in the sections where the flood is lowest.

Public and private beneficence continue to answer the requests. Theaters are organizing benefits, while the various race courses are arranging
a big meeting for the spring, the receipts of which will go to the poor.
A resolution has been introduced in the Chamber of Deputies asking the government to award special crosses
of the Legion of Honor to those who have been conspicuous in the rescue work.

BALLOT BOX SEAL BROKEN

Fight for Mayorship at Lawton Depends on a Recount of the Votes.

Lawton, Okla., Feb. 1.—With attorney for Jake Hamon, defeated republican candidate for mayor of Lawton, exerting ever energy to force entrance to the original ballots and,
by recount, oust Mayor Henry Boyle, democrat, from the office, which they allege he obtained by erroneous count, and with Mayor Boyle and his attorneys fighting step by step every attempted move on the part of the plaintiff, the mandamus suit brought by the former territorial republican chairman is being bitterly fought in district court here.

Judge Johnson today overruled a motion by Boyle to render judgment
for the defendant in pleading but adjourned court late this evening taking under advisement until tomorrow whether or not the ballot boxes should be opened, the argument of the defense being that evidence showing fraud or certain error, aside from the mere allegation, must be introduced before such action is taken.

Man Who Took City Lot for Salary Sells Land at High Price
After 51 Years.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 1.—Fifty-one years ago, rather than lose his week's wages and a shotgun which he had loaned to his employer, Peter W. Seversen took under protest a corner lot of land in this city, 50 by 100 feet in dimension. He sold the lot Wednesday for $250,000 cash.

NOTABLES IN COURT ROOM

Slander Suit in Milwaukee Strikes Society—Doctor's Wife Goes to Court.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 1.—A scandal as sensational as that of the Schandelin-Hoyl suit is brewing in the most exclusive club and society circles here as a result of the action for slander begun by Mrs. Kate
A. Townsend against her sister, Mrs.
Frances S. Kempster; Mrs. Caroline
S. Quarles, wife of Federal Judge J. V. Quarles, former United States senator; Mrs. Thomas H. Brown and Mrs. Edward Ferguson.

Startling Charges Made.

Mrs. Townsend, who asked for damages in the sum of $20,000 from the defendants, charges that they attempted to ruin her character, drive her out of society, close the doors of Milwaukee's best homes to her, and force her out of the Daughters of 1812, and the Milwaukee Women's club, one of the city's most exclusive organizations.

The slander suit is said to be an aftermath of the divorce granted to Mrs. Kempster when she sued Dr.
Walter Kempster, one of America's best known alienists, on charges of non-support.

Mrs. Townsend Silent.

The nature of the slanderous remarks are not divulged by Mrs. Townsend.

Papers are now being served on witnesses to appear at the examination of Mrs. Townsend before Court Commissioner Julius E. Roehr Monday morning.

The families involved in the suit are among the most prominent in the city, and the hearing of the suit promises to command attention.

Swindled Insurance Companies Not Eligible to Prosecute if Business Done in Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 1.—With J. J.
Keene and Timothy O'Leary under bonds of $5,000 each and Patrick J.
Needham in jail, all under charges of defrauding half a dozen insurance companies, question whether they can be held criminally liable has been raised.

So far as named all the companies hit by the operations of the "graveyard swindle" are ineligible to do business in Kentucky.

If it be proved the policies in question were written in Louisville, and not in New Albany, Ind., it is said the companies can not prosecute.

ABOUT DOLLAR CHECKS.

The Evening News—and almost every newspaper in the country—printed
a dispatch some time ago that after a certain date it would be contrary to law for any person to issue a check for less than one dollar.
There have been several denials recently of the existence of such a law, and we publish the following one which is by Leslie J. Lyon, assistant United States district attorney:

"There is no law against issuing
a check for less than a dollar in payment of a debt or obligation, and never has been." This was a statement made yesterday by Assistant United States District Attorney Leslie J.
Lyon, who continued: "The law which was passed in 1862 on that point had reference only to banks issuing notes, bills and mediums of exchange and circulation, and never meant checks at all. It is an old banking act which has long since been repealed, when the original was repealed by the banking act under which we are now carrying on our financial affairs.

"This section of an act, approved July 17, 1862, authorizing payment in stamps and prohibiting the circulation of notes of less denomination and after August 1, 1862, no incorporation, banking house, firm or individual should make, issue or circulate any check, etc., for a less sum than one dollar, intending them to circulate at money or to circulate or be used in lieu of the lawful money of the United States. It is clear, therefore, that this section refers only to persons, firms and corporations doing a banking business, which are authorized to issue circulation mediums. It has no reference whatever to the issuance of checks by private individuals in the payment of debts or personal obligations. It applies only to the issuance of bank notes and other forms which are intended to circulate, generally, money."

STATE BRIEFS.

Tecumseh, Ok., Feb. 1.—Little May,
the 4 year old daughter of W. L.
Johnson of this city, was so seriously burned that her life is despaired
of. The child was at the home of her grandparents near Shawnee, and
was out in the woods where her grandfather was burning brush.
While the grandfather had gone to the house for something the little one's clothing had caught fire and
before her grandfather could reach her she was horribly burned from shoulders to feet. Her greatest injuries are on her limbs and back,
and while there is some hope of saving her life she is in critical condition.

Stillwater, Okla., Feb. 1.—Pursuant to the action of the City Council last week Mayor Rogers has issued a proclamation calling for an election
of eight freeholders whose duty it will be to draft a charter for the proposed new city government to be submitted to the people later. The election will be held Feb. 15. The Mayor suggests that committeemen
of the various parties call ward mass meetings for the nomination of candidates in order that the expense of holding a primary may be avoided.

Lawton, Ok., Feb. 1.—In the matter of the Hanson-Boyle mayoralty contest, Judge Johnson late tonight took under advisement a petition to have the ballot boxes opened in the Second Fourth and Fifth wards.

McAlester, Ok., Feb. 1.—Will Turner, charged with the murder of Austin Thomas, Dec. 23, was tried in the Superior Court today and acquitted, the trial lasting less than one hour, the evidence sustaining the plea of self-defense.

Tulsa, Ok., Jan. 31.—The Creek and Okmulgee County Medical Societies met with the Tulsa County Medical Society here Saturday. The meeting was largely attended and many prominent speakers participated in the program, among whom were Dr. W.
T. Tilley, president of the State Board of Medical Examiners; Dr. Edwin De Barr, state chemist; Dr. J. C. Mahr, state superintendent of health and
Dr. C. L. Reeder, Tulsa county superintendent of health.

El Reno, Ok., Feb. 1.—The $80,000
bonds recently voted by El Reno have been sold to W. A. Mason of Chicago, who paid a premium of $2-034 and accrued interest from date of issue for a period of acceptance.
The bond issue is for a period of twenty years at 5 per cent.

WILLS PORTER A FORTUNE.

Once Saved English Woman's Life;
She Shows Her Gratitude.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 1.—John S. Andrews of Sault Ste. Marie has been willed $100,000. Before coming to Canada, Andrews was a porter on the London & Southwestern railway. He saved an aged woman from falling from the platform onto the track in front of an approaching train. The matter was entirely forgotten by Andrews, who has been working in a lumber camp near the Soo during the winter, until a notification reached him that he was heir to a fortune of $20,000.

Mrs. C. W. Briles left the city for Guthrie.

UNCLE JOE HAS DECLARED SELF

CANDIDATE.

Uses Harsh Language in Making His Statement, But Uses No
Cuss Words.

(By Tab)
Evening News Special.

Washington, Feb. 1.—"Listen, now, boys, while make my ninety-seventh view that I have no intention whatever of retiring! Of the vast multitude of insinuations that have come from my enemies, the least served of all is that I will surrender
when I have not been licked."

So spoke Uncle Joe. But, as he spoke, there was a certain merry twinkle in the eye which seemed to indicate that your sly "Uncle Joseph"
either had his fingers crossed or something concealed up his sleeve.
And to make the situation more complex, even as Mr. Cannon was speaking as above the word was being passed out by his friends that "Speaker Cannon will positively not run again; this is authentic."
This latter statement carried with it the declaration that "Uncle Joe" had decided to throw his support to Marlin E. Olmstead of Pennsylvania.

What is "Uncle Joe's" great secret?
What is the mystery that this political Sphinx of 1910 is holding from the public. These vexatious questions are worryinb more than a few politicians of all parties. Does "Uncle Joe" really intend to try for the speakership again? Is he to be an issue in the approaching congressional campaigns, or isn't he to be? It is as plain as day that someone has been crossing the wires on the public. And not one of the reactionaries seems to be the least bit anxious to clarify the atmosphere as to "Uncle Joe" and the speakership of the next congress. "The gentleman from Illinois" goes on repeating he will not retire, (with a sly grin for each deposition), while the speaker's stool pigeons continue the monotonous chant: "Uncle Joe will not run again; this is authentic! Uncle Joe will not run again; this is authentic!"
In the meantime the congressional elections are drawinb nearer and nearer.

101 RANCH BUYING THINGS.

The Oklahoma Showmen in the Open Market.

The following dispatch comes from
Corry, Pa., dated Saturday:
"Every circus of repute was represented by either owner or agent at the sale of the Cole Brothers shows here today. The independent organizations were pitted against the socailed circus trust and were either successful in outbidding it or making the allied organizations pay big prices for what they got. John and Alfred
T. Ringling, representing the syndicate shows, were present and had a number of followers bidding for them.
"Jones Brothers, independent, got a large number of the cages and wagons and some of the cars. Joe C.
Miller and Edward Arlington of the 101 Ranch Wild West show bought a large amount of railroad equipment.
Dr. Potter, representing the New York Hippodrome, secured some of the best of the horses. The Rinb-lings and Bartel, a New York animal man, got the best of the menagerie.
"The highest price paid for an elephant was $1,500 and the lowest $500.
The latter price was for Queen who has not a good reputation. Camels sold for from $65 to $375. One pair of Bengal tigers brought $1,500, a black maned lion sold for $600 and his mate for $350.

English "Jack" O'Brien, claimer of
the welterweight championship of the world, and Joe Walcott, the ex-champion, have signed articles of agreement to fight ten rounds. Jack Johnson is looking after Walcott.
O'Brien and Johnson met in Toronto,
Ont., and talked matters over. Walcott insisted on fighting in Boston, but O'Brien favors Buffalo as a good place to settle the difference of opinion. Walcott is now with Johnson's combination.

CARD GAMES NOT HARMFUL.

Youngstown Minister Also Says He Loves a Horse Race.

Youngstown, O., Feb. 1.—Rev. Abner L. Fraser, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church, takes exception to what Evangelist Billy Sunday says about card playing.

Mr. Fraser says it is no worse to play a game with the ace, jack, etc., than it was to play with matched cards or authors. He further said he did not believe a man had a right to preach against dancing. "People prate against horse racing," said Mr. Fraser; "for my part I love a beautiful horse and see no harm in
a horse race for pure sport."

Mr. Fraser said the harm in such things comes from carrying them to excess. However, he said that attending religious meetings might become wrongfoul under the same conditions. He declared it was wrong for women to go to religious meetings to the neglect of their homes and children.

Sports

GOSSIP OF THE BALL PLAYERS.

Hans Wagner has postponed the annual announcement of his retirement.

Hughey Duffy says that he Yankees have secured a mighty clever
make good as sure as he is given a chance.

Arthur McCabe is pretty sure to be a regular in the Reds' outfield this season.

The Atlanta club will carry but thirteen players this season. That's counted a lucky number in some Tommy Leach and Fred Clarke
have both requested President Dreyfuss to arrange the new infield at Forbes park so that they could see home plate. Both men claim that the grade was so steep that they could not do this last season.

Rube Waddell, the eccentric one,
has a protegee, and he predicts for him a bright future. He is Robert Jenny of the St. Genevieve (Md.)
team. He is a right hander and weighs 190 pounds. He has speed, control, and a fast-breaking drop in his delivery.

Wonder what the Philadelphia club hired Charley Dooin as manager for?
President Fogel is making all the
deals and all the plans for the playing end of the club for next season.
He has determined to bat Grant
third instead of at the top of the list.
He thinks the change will make
Grant a 300 hitter.

Manager Clark Griffith of the Cincinnati National league baseball team today announced the sale of Pitcher Samuel Smith to the Toronto team of the Eastern league.

Eddie Collins, the star second baseman of the Athletics, has been struck out by Cupid. The hard-hitting player is reported to be engaged to Miss Babel Harriet Doane of Oakview, Pa.
Miss Doane, who is a graduate of the Friends' Select school, is an enthusiastic baseball rooter. She met Collins a couple of years ago, soon after he first joined the Athletics.

Vaughan, the big left hander who will work for the New York Americans this year, struck out 175 batters in twenty-seven games while with Macon in the South Atlantic league
last season.

Try as Ty Cobb may he will have difficulty in equalinb the base-stealing record made by Harry Stovey.
The veteran was playing with the Athletics in 1889 when he established the record of 156 steals.

GOSSIP OF THE FIGHTERS.

Jimmy Walsh of Boston fought six lively rounds to a draw with Patsy Brannigan at Pittsburg. Brannigan was able to hold his own for the first four rounds. In the preliminaries Joe Getz of Johnston, Pa., knocked out "Kid" Myers of Chicago in the second round.

Jim Jeffries, Frank Gotch and Dr.
Roller are going to Hot Springs immediately after the close of their schedule, about Feb. 15, and the former champion heavyweight will do his preliminary training there for the Johnson fight. Gotch and Roller will appear on a programme during their stay at the Springs.

Frankie Neil was given the decision over Young Britt in the thirteenth round before the Eureka Athletic club of Baltimore. Up to the time that the bout was stopped by the referee and Britt disqualified for fouling, the contest was an even affair. In the twelfth and thirteenth rounds Britt resorted to wrestling, and the men were on the canvas as much as they were on their feet and Britt was disqualified.

English "Jack" O'Brien, claimer of
the welterweight championship of the world, and Joe Walcott, the ex-
champion, have signed articles of
agreement to fight ten rounds. Jack Johnson is looking after Walcott.
O'Brien and Johnson met in Toronto,
Ont., and talked matters over. Walcott insisted on fighting in Boston,
but O'Brien favors Buffalo as a good
place to settle the difference of opinion. Walcott is now with Johnson's combination.

Although Phil Brock, the Cleveland light weight, set all the pace in the early rounds of his fight with Fighting Dick Hyland of San Francisco at Tommy Ryan's Memphis Athletic club, the boy from the coast came back strong in the last four rounds, forcing most of the fighting and hammering the Ohioan into retreat, which must have caused Referee Ryan to declare the eight-round contest a draw.

Another Cannon.

Mrs. O. E. Cannon of Whitesboro,
Texas, who is visiting her parents,
Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Currie on 17th street is the proud possessor of a brand new 10-pound boy, since Monday. No relation to Uncle Joe, thank you, for the youngster repudiated Cannonism and the house rules as

SEEKING BROTHER IN ADA

Tennessee Man Inquiring Whereabouts of John Roberson, Formerly of This City.

The Evening News yesterday received communication and a want ad, from a prominent Tennessee attorney seeking information as to the whereabouts of one John Roberson, formerly of McMinn county, Tenn., but who resided at or near this city in January, 1909. This paper has made some effort to locate some one acquainted with Roberson but has been unable to hit a trial. Anyone who knew the gentleman during his residence at or near this city will confer a favor by addressing his brother, J. R. Roberson, Etowah, Tenn.

NEW TRUNK LINE PROPOSED.

Plans of Chicago, Mobile and New Orleans Railroad.

New Orleans, La., Feb. 1.—Definite and seemingly authoritative statement was made yesterday concerning plans of the Chicago, Mobile and New Orleans Railroad, of which J. S. Berg is president, which means the establishment of a new trunk line into New Orleans with links in Mobile, Memphis, Chicago and St. Louis. Berg has been here for several days. Negotiations for the Mississippi Central have apparently reached successful conclusion. The Goodyear Road (New Orleans and Great Northern) is another link in the system. It is believed that the Goodyears, who own vast timber tracts in Louisiana and Mississippi, have made the new system possible.

D'YARNETTE MAY TAKE LEGAL ACTION

REPORTED THAT REJECTED BIDDER HAS EMPLOYED ATTYS.

Refuses to Make Statement This Afternoon—Councilmen Not Uneasy.

E. C. D'Yarnette, the Oklahoma City contractor whose bid on the local paving contract was rejected by the council at the meeting last night, is today circulating a petition among the property owners attempting to get signers. Mr. D'Yarnette advised the council last night that he expected to take the matter of rejecting his bid to court; and it was stated this afternoon that he had employed two attorney firms, one of this city and one Oklahoma City firm. When asked about the matter by an Evening News representative this afternoon Mr. D'Yarnette refused to confirm or deny the report saying he desired not to make a statement at this time. It is probable, however, that any legal action contemplated hinges on the success of the petition which he desires to be signed by the owners of property. Several members of the Council were interviewed on the subject and each of them stated that the Oklahoma City man had absolutely no case.

WATERWORKS FOR THE FARM

Kansas Brothers to Have City Conveniences in the Country.

Junction City, Kan., Feb. 1.—Cyrus Acker, a farmer living a few miles west of Junction City, has awarded the contract for a complete waterworks system on his farm. The supply is furnished by a windmill and the water is pumped into a large steel pressure tank. A force pump takes the water from this tank through pipes to all parts of the big farm house, to the lawn, and to places where needed in the barn cattle and hog sheds. M. J. Acker, a brother of Cyrus Acker, will have a duplicate of this plant installed on his farm just as soon as the work at his brother's place is finished. These men have from year to year been putting in improvements at their farm homes that provide just as many modern conveniences as can be found in the best of city homes.

MRS. GUNNESS FOUND AGAIN.

This Time the Multi-Murderess Is Located in Minnesota.

Willmar, Minn., Feb. 1.—Mrs. Belle Gunness, fat, heavy featured, allebied multimurderess and siren, who lured many northwestern farmers to their doom at the notorious "Gunness farm" near Laporte, Ind., after a three years' disappearance, has, it is believed, been found as a housekeeper for Gust Kirby, a farmer, fourteen miles northeast of Willmar. This information, credited by Indiana police, and which may end in one of the most sensational revelations in the history of crime, has been given the Willmar and Laporte authorities throughout the past month by Samuel Kirby of Mankato, Minn., a wealthy farmer and brother of Gust Kirby.

BALLINGER FAVOR-ED VALIDATE BILL

Pinchot Will Appear Before Investigating Committee in Wash.

Washington, Feb. 1.—When the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee adjourned late today until next Friday morning, Louis R. Glavis was still on the witness stand. He will be further questioned at that time. Glavis was cross-examined today by several members of the committee. At the close of the hearing Senator Nelson called attention to the fact that the committee was participating "feebly" and blindly, as there was no one present to cross-examine as the representative of "the other side."

Would Validate Claims.

Cross-examined by Senator Fletcher of Florida, Glavis said today that Mr. Ballinger, while commissioner of the land office, had appeared before committees of congress and by his testimony had favored a bill that would validate all of the Alaskan coal claims. He also said that an affidavit filed September 4, 1908, by Clarence Cunningham, had on it a backing that bore the firm name with which Judge Ballinger was connected.

Glavis said that when Mr. Ballinger asked him not to proceed with his investigation of the coal claims until after election because of the slowness of campaign contributions, no one was present to over hear the conversation.

TOO MANY FOR SHAWNEE

Shawnee Herald's Comment on the Basket Ball Game Played Here Saturday.

The girls basket ball team of Shawnee met with defeat in the game with the Ada Normal school at Ada, Saturday afternoon. The final score stood 18 to 10.
The local team suffered from imposition of free throws awarded the Ada team by reason of fouls chalked against them on account of being out of bounds on the slippery floor at Ada.
The Central Normal team of Ada will play a return game with the Shawnee High school girls' five in this city on Thursday, Feb. 10th.

A GAVEL MADE WITH KNIFE

C. M. Chauncey Owner of One Manufactured by Prisoner in the Penitentiary.

C. M. Chauncey of the I. O. O. F. in his travels over the state has picked up a gavel which was made by a prisoner—an Odd Fellow—while serving time in a penitentiary. The gavel is of lignumvitae wood and the inscriptions which are made of pearl, are as follows: "Poteau lodge, No. 27, 1908, I. O. O. F., Eye, Three Links and Scales." The work is done entirely with a pocket knife and shows much skill, the letters, which are cut from pearl and embedded in the wood, being almost as perfect as the sign painter's letters.

WILL SOON UNSEAL MINE

Arrangements Completed for Re-entering the Cherry Colliery. Excitement.

Cherry, Ill., Feb. 1.—Suppressed excitement prevailed in Cherry last night among the relatives and friends of the 180 odd miners who lie dead in the St. Paul mine.

Tomorrow it probably will be known definitely whether the bodies can be brought to the surface or whether the mine will continue to be kept closed. All arrangements were completed today for the reopening of the shaft early tomorrow. Richard Newsam, president of the state mine board, today personally superintended the final arrangements. He said that if the mine proved workable now it would create a record for the short time required to smother the fire. The helmet men from the University of Illinois failed to reach Cherry today as expected, but they are scheduled to arrive early tomorrow, ready to try the interior of the mine.

RE-INDICTMENT IN CHICAGO SOUGHT

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY FIXES FOR MORE BILLS.

McGovern, Redieske and Others Are the Victims—Betrayed by Employee.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 1.—New indictments based on the alleged sewer graft involving $254,000, will be sought against: Michael H. McGovern, Paul Redieske and the nine other men, against whom true bills have been returned on charges of conspiracy to obtain money from the city by false pretenses.

State's Attorney Wayman probably will offer additional evidence, which may involve others in the scandal, but the main object in again seeking indictments is to make sure that there is no loophole by which the defendants can escape on technicalities.

Mr. Wayman held a conference with his assistants, Thomas Marshall and Victor Arnold, and the indictment already returned was carefully gone over.

Mr. Wayman was satisfied with the document, but said that as an extra precaution another indictment probably would be sought.

"The first indictment," said Mr. Marshall, "was for the purpose main-

From Lucile's Diary

It occurred to me a few weeks ago that I should like to identify myself with some charitable work. I think it is broadening to one's character to take part in any good movement of that sort, and as nearly all the fashionable people whom I know are interested in one or another of the philanthropic societies of the city I determined to join one.

I heard that a member of the "Dix Amies" had resigned on account of moving out of town and I determined to ask Ruth Ritchey to nominate me for membership in that exclusive little circle of ten friends.

"You know, Lucile," said Ruth rather doubtfully when I spoke of the matter, "all the girls in our club are hard workers. We not only attend the meetings faithfully, but we pledge ourselves to do our utmost for the charities we assist. Just now we are trying to raise a considerable sum of money to give at Christmas time to worthy charities."

"I'd be glad to contribute $25 if that would be any help," I remarked, casually.

"Indeed it would and it's awfully good of you, Lucile," Ruth's manner was perceptibly warmer. "Of course it would be very nice to have you in the Dix Amies, but I wasn't sure you'd like—I mean, have time for the work. You know we are getting up a bazaar now."

"I just love such work," I cried, enthusiastically. "Is it to be a fancy dress affair?"

"We did think of wearing peasant costumes,"

"Oh, do," I said. "I should choose to be a girl from Alsace. A big Alsatian bow in my hair is so becoming to me."

"Of course then we shall have to have the peasant costumes."

A few days later I was notified that I had been elected to membership in the Dix Amies. I at once asked father for the amount of the initiation fee, for it is quite impossible for me to stretch my allowance beyond my usual expenses.

"And father," I said after he had written the check, "I am extremely anxious to contribute to the charity fund which the club is raising for a Christmas offering and if you will give me $25 I'll feel that you've made me a very lovely and generous Christmas present and I won't expect any other gift from you or mother."

"Why, Lucile, are you sure you won't be disappointed when all the ribbons and tissue paper are being strewn around Christmas morning?" he asked.

"No, indeed. I shall be only too happy in thinking how much good my present from you will do others."

Father dipped his pen in the ink and when he had written another check he handed it to me with a smile that plainly showed he was pleased with my unselfishness. Mother told me afterward that he was quite touched. It's a real pleasure to me to feel that I have won the approval of my dear father.

Notwithstanding that I argued strongly in favor of fancy dress at the bazaar the girls decided against it. Even Ruth said the money and trouble that fancy costumes cost might better be expended upon the worthy charities we desired to help.

The only fun I had at the bazaar was in displaying a beautiful lapis-lazuli necklace which I put on. Walking around the room I tried to induce some one to buy it. But no one appeared to be in the mood to spend $30 for even such an attractive ornament. Just before the bazaar closed I went back to the jewelry booth and told Ruth, who was in charge there, that I feared it was hopeless to try to sell it.

"Well, may be it will go if we mark it down to $25," she said, thoughtfully. "We should still make a small profit, for the dealer let us have it for wholesale price."

"That seems quite a bargain," I said. "Yes, of course it's too bad to make so little on the necklace, but it would be better to let it go at that than not to sell it at all."

"I'll take it myself, Ruth," I said, with sudden determination.

"Oh, will you? How nice!" she exclaimed, as I gave her the money.

The day after the bazaar the Dix Amies had a business meeting, but I was too tired to go. Ruth came in to see me on her way home from it and told me that we had made a considerable sum.

"With the $25 you have so generously promised, Lucile," she said, "we shall have the amount we have set our hearts upon. I suppose we can have your contribution at any time?"

"Why, I have already paid in that $25," I answered.

"You have! When?"

When I bought the lapis-lazuli necklace."

"Why, Lucile," explained Ruth, "you must know that only a small part of the price of that necklace came to the club."

"Well, you seemed very glad to sell it and I supposed I was doing the club a favor when I bought it," I explained.

"It certainly was a great bargain and I congratulate you on getting it, for I am sure it is very becoming to you," said Ruth, laughing in her disagreeable way. Then she went almost without a word.

When I think of that exasperating laugh of hers I feel that Ruth has not had the advantages of thorough culture, but I try not to judge her harshly.

Disturbing the Family Peace

"There was a time when I thought mine a well-regulated household," remarked the tired-eyed mother of four smiling youthfully in spite of the silver in her hair and the lines of care around her mouth. "When a question was at issue each of us conceded a trifle till we got into the habit of moving about as peacefully as the stars in their courses. But last Christmas I was ruthlessly awakened to the fact that my flock has bellicose instincts."

The tired-eyed mother sighed and began to explain.

"Our house is so small, you know, that we're packed in as snugly as peas in a pod. Every Christmas we had been unlucky enough to be deluged with from forty to fifty books, with the result that the house was overflowing. Every flat surface, no matter what its original duty might have been, has been compelled to do service as a book stand. As last Christmas was approaching, we decided in family council not to give books to one another, for if we received just one more it would have to be put on the pantry shelf."

"In spite of our care, however, one book managed to break the blockade. Annette received a popular novel gorgeously bound."

"Though we were all vitally interested in what we received ourselves, each of us managed within the next day or so to take a sly peep between the covers of Annette's book. A few nights after Christmas the trouble came to a head. It was cold and rainy, and the children were all at home to dinner, the first time for weeks."

"Jack, he's the oldest, jumped up from the table before Annie brought in the dessert."

"He made direct for the library, where I heard a rustling of papers on the table, and then the familiar creaking of the old springs on the divan as Jack threw himself in his customary place. Father looked up suspiciously and with an alert air. Then he did a strange thing. He shoved his chair back from the table, and, without stopping to say grace marched into the library. I listened intently."

"Oh, you have it," I heard father say, with a little disappointment in his voice.

"It seemed only a minute till Priscilla and Ed, the twins, jumped up from the table together and made a beeline for the library. My heart beat faster. Even the clock seemed to be ticking anxiously as I listened. Ed, you know, is at that combustible age when one often is more strenuous than elegant."

"'Pig!' It was Ed, hissing at the entirely unconscious Jack."

"'Pig! you there!' repeated Ed."

"'Let go the book!' came sulkily from Jack. 'Quit it, I tell you. Do you want to tear it?'"

"You don't expect to keep it all evening, I hope," declared imperious Priscilla, with well-feigned surprise. "Surely, she went on in a queenly fashion, 'the rest of us have some rights. Anyway, and there was a half sob in her voice, 'Ed and I were just crazy to see whom she married and we—'"

"Let the old pig alone," comforted Ed. Then I heard the leaf of the card table as it snapped into position."

"In the meantime Annette was having a one-sided consultation with me as to how her new white dress was to be made. I was trying to lengthen out our talk, but it has been so many years since I have dared to make even a suggestion to my grown-up daughter that my ruse was a pitiful failure. Annette settled all my objections in a peremptory fashion, and then sallied majestically into the library with an ominous rustle to her skirts. For the first time in my life I regretted that Annette was to spend the evening in the bosom of her family. The new book belonged to Annette!"

"But it's mine—it was given to me," came to me in Annette's icy accents.

"It's mine now, since possession is nine points of the law," chuckled Jack, who is studying to be a lawyer."

"It's always wise to obey Annette. She flounced to the piano and began pounding out Chopin's funeral march."

"During the bombardment I crept into the room and took a copy of my favorite, Mrs. Browning. We were the most suspicious looking crowd. All of us were pretending to be busy, and all were secretly watching Jack."

"Suddenly the telephone bell rang."

"'Jack!' Annette announced, who had answered the bell, 'It's for you.'"

"Jack sprang from the divan, ten eyes following him. Father glanced furtively over the top of his paper. The twins forgot their game. Annette was tired of the funeral march and I was false to 'Aurora Leigh.'"

"Yes, Jack was calling, sweetly, 'I'll be there in 15 minutes.'"

"Presently Jack came to the door dressed for the street."

"Where did you put the book?" demanded Annette.

"Where is it?" chimed in the twins. "Book?" temporized Jack. "Book? Are you folks all waiting for it? That's too bad; it's great. But I'm going to take a run over to Helen's, and I promised to take it along."

The tired-eyed little mother smiled determinedly. "Next Christmas I shall see that we each get at least one book apiece," she said.

EXPLOSION KILLS MANYFIFTEEN BODIES FOUND DEAD IN
MINE.

Miners Belaid Rushed to Scene of Explosion for Rescue Work.
of Horror.Primero Colo, Feb 1—Over 100 men are believed to have been killed
by a terrific explosion in the Prim-
ero mine of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company at 4:30 yesterday afternoon.Fifteen bodies have been recovered
and rescue parties are making desperate efforts to reach the interior workings out off from the outside by the caving of the main shaft.
At tonight at 10 o'clock fifteen men's bodies had been recovered fromone of the main slopes. The bodies were literally blown to pieces and were unrecognizable.The workings were reached through the air shaft and are now being searched for more bodies.Miners were rushed to Primero from Trinidad Segundo, Starkville, Sopris and Cokeville and are labor-
shaft relieving each other every few minutes. It is impossible to determine how much of the main shaft
has caved and it may be days before
death list known. There is little hope that any of the men are alive.The company clerk reports that seventy-nine safety lamps are missing and it is sure that number of men are entombed.Many of the miners however, say that 150 men are missing. Most of them are Slavs and Huns. Pit Boss Wilhelm is known to be among the missing.

Scene One of Horror.

The camp is a scene of indescribable horror tonight. While every able-
bodied man is taking his turn to
clear the shaft, the women and children kept back by ropes have gathered about the shaft weeping and cawing wildly upon their loved ones who have not been found.Experts from all the coal camps
of the state have been gathered to assist Superintendent Thompson.A C French, superintendent of the Wooten mines, and J E Minter
cue party as soon as batteries for
electric lights arrive by special train.
Members of the first rescue party
say that the effect of the explosion
underground is indescribable. The bodies recovered were horribly burned
and unrecognizable. One body was impaled on broken timbers.PAVING BILL IS AWARDEDSHELBY DOWNARD OF ARDMORE
BIDDER.

Lowest Bid Entered Is by E. C.
Who States He Will Contest Action.The paving contract of thirteen blocks on Main Broadway and Downs streets, which has been haunting the city council for a number of weeks was awarded at the regular meeting last night the Shelby Downard company of Ardmore being the successful bidder at the
figures of $83,263.59, the price being $1.80 a square yard for the 38,680
square yards.All other business was suspended with the exception of one labor bill
which was badly needed by C A
and was allowed.

Didn't Want Repetition.

Remembering the long drawn out
wrangle resulting from the engineer's
other meeting at the opening of the
bids, Councilman Sims made a little
talk in which he stated he wanted the
engineer's fee thoroughly thrashed
out before anything else was done so
as to avoid a squabble of two hours or more. This understood, all visitors were driven out of the council chambers, the body going into executive session, and the bids were opened and read which were as follows:Metropolitan Construction company of Kansas City 38,680 square yards
at $2 per yard $77,360, work to be begun April 1 and be completed within 100 work days.Parker-Washington company, of St.
Louis, at $1.81 per yard, $85,810.05
work to begin March 25 and be completed in 200 days.Shelby Downard company of Ardmore at $1.80 per yard, $83,263.59,
work to begin April 1 and be completed in 180 days.E C D Yarnette of Oklahoma City at $1.80 per yard $83,221.30, work to
180 days.

Contract Awarded.

The total of Mr D'Yarnette's bid
was made by that gentleman as $79-531.30 which was a mistake and
was corrected to $83,221.30 a difference of only $42.28 between his bid
and the bid of Shelby Downard, his
being cheaper than the latter company.D'Yarnette Wants Reason.
When the accepted bidder was announced Mr D'Yarnette demanded a statement of the council as to why
he was not given the contract since
his bid was the lowest one entered.
He was told that he had admitted
that he has had no experience with
reason the contract was awarded to
the next lowest bidder who has had experience with this sort of paving.D'Yarnette insisted that he had competent men in his employ who
said he didn't think he was given
fair play. He also stated his intention of contesting the matter in the courts.Another Meeting Wednesday.
The water committee was directed
to notify all parties interested to
have in their bids on next Monday night for the sprinkling job.There is a lot of business which needs dispatching and a special meeting is called for tomorrow (Wednesday) night.

Money in Chewing Gum.

New York, Feb 1.—Dividends
amounting to 18 per cent on the common and 6 per cent on the preferred
stock have been declared by the American Chicle company, which now
controls about 84 per cent of the country's chewing gum output.CRISIS IN PARIS BELIEVED PASTSITUATION IS MUCH IMPROVED TODAY.Relief Work Progressing Rapidly and Speedy Disinfection Has Been Ordered.Paris, Feb 1.—The improvement in the general situation continues and
selling post card pictures of the flood and the boulevards are once
more gay with rejoicing thousands.
With the crisis past, the mercurial
French temperament faces the subsidiary troubles with a light heart,
but the papers already are sounding a note of warning that the lesson must not be forgotten, that
be done by the construction of a cut-off either in the way of a canal
or a large underground conduit
around Paris.

Speedy Disinfection Ordered.

the Seine has issued instructions to
and disinfect their premises to the satisfaction of the municipal architects within two hours after the subsidence of the waters. Otherwise, the work will be done at the cost and risk of the owners.The government has ordered the Tax Collectors to show the greatest leniency to delinquents, and the monde pieté is extending pawn tickets for three months.

Pumpkin Water from Subway.

Several steam trains today resumed the work of pumping out the subway and considerable progress is being made in the sections where the flood is lowest.Public and private beneficence continues to answer the requests. Theaters are organizing benefits, while the
various race courses are arranging
a big meeting for the spring, the
A resolution has been introduced in
the Chamber of Deputies asking the
government to award special crosses
of the Legion of Honor to those
rescue work.

BALLOT BOX SEAL BROKEN

Fight for Mayorship at Lawton De-
Votes.Lawton, Okla. Feb 1.—With attorney for Jake Hamon, defeated republican candidate for mayor of Lawton, exerting every energy to force entrance to the original ballots and by recount, ousted Mayor Henry Boyle democrat, from the office, which they
allege he obtained by erroneous
count, and with Mayor Boyle and his
attorneys fighting step by step every
attempted move on the part of the
plaintiff, the mandamus suit brought
by the former territorial republican
district court here.Judge Johnson today overruled a motion by Boyle to render judgment
for the defendant in pleading but adjourned court late this evening taking under advisement until tomorrow whether or not the ballot boxes
should be opened, the argument of the defense being that evidence showing fraud or certain error aside from the mere allegation, must be introduced before such action is taken.

ABOUT DOLLAR CHECKS.

The Evening News—and almost every newspaper in the country—printed
a dispatch some time ago that
after a certain date it would be contrary to law for any person to issue a check for less than one dollar.
There have been several denials recently of the existence of such a
law, and we publish the following
one which is by Leslie J. Lyon, assistant United States district attorney:

"There is no law against issuing
a check for less than a dollar in payment of a debt or obligation, and never has been." This was a statement
States District Attorney Leslie J.
Lyon, who continued: "The law which
was passed in 1862 on that point had
reference only to banks issuing notes,
bills and mediums of exchange and
circulation, and never meant checks
at all. It is an old banking act which has long since been out of date, when
the original was repealed by the
banking act under which we are now
carrying on our financial affairs."

"This section of an act, approved
stamps and prohibiting the circulation of one dollar, provided that from notes of less denomination and after August 1, 1862, no corporation, banking house, firm or individual should make, issue or circulate any check, etc., for a less sum than one dollar, intending them to
circulate at money or to circulate
or be used in lieu of the lawful
money of the United States. It is clear, therefore, that this section
refers only to persons, firms and
corporations doing a banking business, which are authorized to issue circulation mediums. It has no reference whatever to the issuance of checks by private individuals in the payment of debts or personal obliga-

of bank notes and other forms which
are intended to circulate, generally,
money."

STATE BRIEFS.

Teconmeh, Ok., Feb. 1.—Little May,
the 4 year old daughter of W. L.
Johnson of this city, was so seriously burned that her life is despaired
of. The child was at the home of her grandparents near Shawnee, and
was out in the woods where her
grandfather was burning brush.
While the grandfather had gone to
the house for something the little
one's clothing had caught fire and
before her grandfather could reach
her she was horribly burned from
shoulders to feet. Her greatest injuries are on her limbs and back,
and while there is some hope of
saving her life she is in critical condition.

Stillwater, Okla., Feb. 1.—Pursuant
to the action of the City Council last week Mayor Rogers has issued a proclamation calling for an election
of eight freeholders whose duty it
will be to draft a charter for the proposed new city government to be submitted to the people later. The election will be held Feb. 15. The Mayor suggests that committeemen
of the various parties call ward mass
meetings for the nomination of candidates in order that the expense of
holding a primary may be avoided.

Lawton, Ok., Feb. 1.—In the matter
of the Hanson-Boyle mayoralty contest, Judge Johnson late tonight took
under advisement a petition to have
the ballot boxes opened in the Second Fourth and Fifth wards.

McAlester, Ok., Feb. 1.—With Turner, charged with the murder of Austin Thomas, Dec. 23, was tried in the Superior Court today and acquitted, the trial lasting less than one hour, the evidence sustaining the plea of self-defense.

Tulsa, Ok., Jan. 31.—The Creek and Okmulgee County Medical Societies
met with the Tulsa County Medical Society here Saturday. The meeting was largely attended and many prominent speakers participated in the program, among whom were Dr. W.
T. Tilley, president of the State Board of Medical Examiners; Dr. Edwin De Barr, state chemist; Dr. J. C. Mahr, state superintendent of health and
Dr. C. L. Reeder, Tulsa county superintendent of health.

El Reno, Ok., Feb. 1.—The $30,000
bonds recently voted by El Reno
have been sold to W. A. Mason of
Chicago, who paid a premium of $2-034 and accrued interest from date
of issue for a period of acceptance.
The bond issue is for a period of
twenty years at 5 per cent.

WILLS PORTER A FORTUNE.

Once Saved English Woman's Life;
She Shows Her Gratitude.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 1.—John S. Andrews of Sault Ste. Marie has been willed $100,000. Before coming to Canada, Andrews was a porter on the London & Southwestern railway. He saved an aged woman from falling
from the platform onto the track in front of an approaching train. The matter was entirely forgotten by Andrews, who has been working in a lumber camp near the Soo during the winter, until a notification reached him that he was heir to a fortune of £20,000.

Mrs. C. W. Briles left the city for Guthrie.

UNCLE JOE HAS DECLARED SELF

CANDIDATE.

Statement, But Uses No

(By Tab)

Washington, Feb. 1.—"Listen, now,
boys, while make my ninety-seventh vow that I have no intention whatever of retiring! Of the vast multitude of insinuations that have come from my enemies, the least deserved of all is that I will surrender
when I have not been licked."

So spoke Uncle Joe. But, as he spoke, there was a certain merry
twinkle in the eye which seemed to indicate that your sly "Uncle Joseph"
either had his fingers crossed or
something concealed up his sleeve.
And to make the situation more complex, even as Mr. Cannon was
speaking as above the word was
being passed out by his friends
that "Speaker Cannon will positively not run again; this is authentic."
This latter statement carried with it the declaration that "Uncle Joe"
Marlin E. Olmstead of Pennsylvania.

What is "Uncle Joe's" great secret?
What is the mystery that this political Sphinx of 1910 is holding from
the public. These vexatious questions are worrying more than a few politicians of all parties. Does "Uncle Joe" really intend to try for the speakership again? Is he to be an issue in the approaching congressional
as plain as day that someone has
been crossing the wires on the public. And not one of the reactionaries seems to be the least bit anxious to clarify the atmosphere as to "Uncle Joe" and the speakership of the next congress. "The gentleman from Illinois" goes on repeating he will not retire, (with a sly grin for each deposition), while the speaker's stool hijackers continue the monotonous chant: "Uncle Joe will not run again; this is authentic." Uncle Joe
will not run again; this is authentic!
In the meantime the congressional elections are drawing nearer and nearer.

101 RANCH BUYING THINGS.

The Oklahoma Showmen in the Open Market.

The following dispatch comes from
Corry, Pa., dated Saturday:
"Every circus of repute was represented by either owner or agent at the sale of the Cole Brothers shows
here today. The independent organizations were pitted against the so-called circus trust and were either successful in outbidding it or making the
allied organizations pay big prices
for what they got. John and Alfred
T. Ringling, representing the syndicate shows, were present and had a number of followers bidding for them."
Jones Brothers, independent, got a large number of the cages and wagons and some of the cars. Joe O.
Miller and Edward Arlington of the 101 Ranch Wild West show bought a large amount of railroad equipment.
Dr. Potter, representing the New York Hippodrome, secured some of the best of the horses. The Ringlings and Bartel, a New York animal
man, got the best of the menagerie.

"The highest price paid for an elephant was $1,500 and the lowest, $500.
The latter price was for Queen who
has not a good reputation. Camels
sold for from $65 to $375. One pair of Bengal tigers brought $1,500, a big cat named lion sold for $600 and his mate for $350."

CARD GAMES NOT HARMFUL.

Youngstown Minister Also Says He Loves a Horse Race.

Youngstown, O., Feb. 1.—Rev. Abner L. Fraser, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church, takes exception to what Evangelist Billy Sunday says
about card playing.

Mr. Fraser says it is no worse to play a game with the ace, jack, etc.,
than it was to play with matched
cards or authors. He further said he did not believe a man had a right to preach against dancing. "People prate against horse racing," said Mr. Fraser; "for my part I love a beautiful horse and see no harm in
a horse race for pure sport."

Mr. Fraser said the harm in such things comes from carrying them to excess. However, he said that attending religious meetings might become wrongful under the same conditions. He declared it was wrong
for women to go to religious meet-
and children.

Sports

GOSSIP OF THE BALL PLAYERS.

Hans Wagner has postponed the
annual announcement of his retirement.

Hughey Duffy says that the Yankees have secured a mighty clever
chance.

Arthur McCabe is pretty sure to be a regular in the Reds' outfield this season.

The Atlanta club will carry but thirteen players this season. That's counted a lucky number in some
Tommy Leach and Fred Clarke
have both requested President Drey-
fuss to arrange the new infield at
home plate. Both men claim that the grade was so steep that they could
not do this last season.

Rube Waddell, the eccentric one,
has a protegee, and he predicts for him a bright future. He is Robert Jenny of the St. Genevieve (Md.)
team. He is a right hander and weighs 190 pounds. He has speed, control, and a fast-breaking drop in his delivery.

Wonder what the Philadelphia club hired Charley Doolin as manager for?
President Fogel is making all the
deals and all the plans for the playing end of the club for next season.
He has determined to bat Grant
third instead of at the top of the list.
He thinks the change will make
Grant a 300 hitter.

Manager Clark Griffith of the Cincinnati National league baseball team
today announced the sale of Pitcher Samuel Smith to the Toronto team
of the Eastern league.

Eddie Collins, the star second baseman of the Athletics, has been struck
out by Cupid. The hard-hitting player is reported to be engaged to Miss Babel Harriet Doane of Oakview, Pa.
Miss Doane, who is a graduate of the Friends' Select school, is an enthusiastic baseball rooter. She met Collins a couple of years ago, soon after he joined the Athletics.

Vaughan, the big left hander who
will work for the New York Americans this year, struck out 175 batters
in twenty-seven games while with Macon in the South Atlantic league
last season.

Try as Ty Cobb may he will have difficulty in equaling the base-stealing record made by Harry Stovey.
The veteran was playing with the Athletics in 1889 when he established the record of 156 steals.

GOSSIP OF THE FIGHTERS.

Jimmy Walsh of Boston fought six
lively rounds to a draw with Patsy Brannigan at Pittsburg. Brannigan
was able to hold his own for the first four rounds. In the preliminaries Joe Getz of Johnston, Pa., knocked out "Kid" Myers of Chicago in the second round.

Jim Jeffries, Frank Gotch and Dr.
Roller are going to Hot Springs immediately after the close of their
schedule, about Feb. 15, and the
former champion heavyweight will do
his preliminary training there for
the Johnson fight. Gotch and Roller
will appear on a programme during their stay at the Springs.

Frankie Neil was given the decision over Young Britt in the thirteenth round before the Eureka Athletic club of Baltimore. Up to the time that the bout was stopped by the
referee and Britt disqualified for fouling, the contest was an even affair. In the twelfth and thirteenth
rounds Britt resorted to wrestling,
and the men were on the canvas as much as they were on their feet and Britt was disqualified.

English "Jack" O'Brien, claimer of
the welterweight championship of the world, and Joe Walcott, the ex-
champion, have signed articles of agreement to fight ten rounds. Jack Johnson is looking after Walcott.
O'Brien and Johnson met in Toronto,
Ont., and talked matters over. Walcott insisted on fighting in Boston,
but O'Brien favors Buffalo as a good place to settle the difference of opinion. Walcott is now with Johnson's combination.

Although Phil Brock, the Cleveland light weight, set all the pace
in the early rounds of his fight with Fighting Mink Hyland of San Francisco at Tommy Ryan's Memphis
Athletic club, the boy from the coast
came back strong in the last four
rounds, forcing most of the fighting and hammering the Ohloan into retreat, which must have caused Referee Ryan to declare the eight-round contest a draw.

Another Cannon.

Mrs. O. E. Cannon of Whitesboro,
Texas, who is visiting her parents,
Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Currie on 17th street is the proud possessor of a brand new 10-pound boy, since Monday. No relation to Uncle Joe, thank you, for the youngster repudiated Cannonism and the house rules as

NEW TRUNK LINE PROPOSED.

Plans of Chicago, Mobile and New Orleans Railroad.

New Orleans, La., Feb. 1.—Definite and seemingly authoritative statement was made yesterday concerning plans of the Chicago, Mobile and New Orleans Railroad, of which J. S. Berg is president, which means the establishment of a new trunk line into New Orleans with links in Mobile, Memphis, Chicago and St. Louis. Berg has been here for several days. Negotiations for the Mississippi Central have apparently reached successful conclusion. The Goodyear Road (New Orleans and Great Northern) is another link in the system. It is believed that the Goodyears, who own vast timber tracts in Louisiana and Mississippi, have made the new system possible.

D'YARNETTE MAY TAKE LEGAL ACTION

REPORTED THAT REJECTED BIDDER HAS EMPLOYED ATTS.

Refuses to Make Statement This Afternoon—Councilmen Not Uneasy.

E. C. D'Yarnette, the Oklahoma City contractor whose bid on the local paving contract was rejected by the council at the meeting last night, is today circulating a petition among the property owners attempting to get signers.

Mr. D'Yarnette advised the council last night that he expected to take the matter of rejecting his bid to court, and it was stated this afternoon that he had employed two attorney firms, one of this city and one Oklahoma City firm.

When asked about the matter by an Evening News representative this afternoon Mr. D'Yarnette refused to confirm or deny the report saying he desired not to make a statement at this time.

It is probable, however, that any legal action contemplated hinges on the success of the petition which he desires to be signed by the owners of property.

Several members of the Council were interviewed on the subject and each of them stated that the Oklahoma City man had absolutely no case.

WATERWORKS FOR THE FARM

Kansas Brothers to Have City Conveniences in the Country.

Junction City, Kan., Feb. 1.—Cyrus Acker, a farmer living a few miles west of Junction City, has awarded the contract for a complete waterworks system on his farm. The supply is furnished by a windmill and the water is pumped into a large steel pressure tank. A force pump takes the water from this tank through pipes to all parts of the big farm house, to the lawn, and to places where needed in the barn cattle and hog sheds.

M. J. Acker, a brother of Cyrus Acker, will have a duplicate of this plant installed on his farm just as soon as the work at his brother's place is finished. These men have from year to year been putting in improvements at their farm homes that provide just as many modern conveniences as can be found in the best of city homes.

MRS. GUNNESS FOUND AGAIN.

Willmar, Minn., Feb. 1.—Mrs. Belle Gunness, fat, heavy featured, alleged multi-murderess and stren, who lured many northwestern farmers to their doom at the notorious "Gunness farm" near Laporte, Ind., after a three years' disappearance, has, it is believed, been found as a housekeeper for Gust Kirby, a farmer, fourteen miles northeast of Willmar.

This information, credited by Indiana police, and which may end in one of the most sensational revelations in the history of crime, has been given the Willmar and Laporte authorities throughout the past month by Samuel Kirby of Mankato, Minn., a wealthy farmer and brother of Gust Kirby.

Do you know that croup can be prevented? Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It is also a certain cure for croup and has never been known to fail. Sold by all dealers.

BALLINGER FAVOR-ED VALIDATE BILL

Pinchot Will Appear Before Investigating Committee in Washington.

Washington, Feb. 1.—When the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee adjourned late today until next Friday morning, Louis R. Glavis was still on the witness stand. He will be further questioned at that time. Glavis was cross-examined today by several members of the committee.

At the close of the hearing Senator Nelson called attention to the fact that the committee was participating "freely" and "blindly," as there was no one present to cross-examine as the representative of "the other side."

Would Validate Claims.

Cross-examined by Senator Fletcher of Florida, Glavis said today that Mr. Ballinger, while commissioner of the land office, had appeared before committees of congress and by his testimony had favored a bill that would validate all of the Alaskan coal claims. He also said that an affidavit filed September 4, 1908, by Clarence Cunningham, had on it a backing that bore the firm name with which Judge Ballinger was connected.

Glavis said that when Mr. Ballinger asked him not to proceed with his investigation of the coal claims until after election because of the slowness of campaign contributions, no one was present to over hear the conversation.

TOO MANY FOR SHAWNEE

Shawnee Herald's Comment on the Basket Ball Game Played Here Saturday.

The girls basket ball team of Shawnee met with defeat in the game with the Ada Normal school at Ada, Saturday afternoon. The final score stood 18 to 10.

The local team suffered from imposition of free throws awarded the Ada team by reason of fouls chalked against them on account of being out of bounds on the slippery floor at Ada.

A GAVEL MADE WITH KNIFE

C. M. Chauncey Owner of One Manufactured by Prisoner in the Penitentiary.

C. M. Chauncey of the I. O. O. F. in his travels over the state has picked up a gavel which was made by a prisoner—an Odd Fellow—while serving time in a penitentiary. The gavel is of lignum vitae wood and the inscriptions which are made of pearl, are as follows: "Poteau lodge, No. 27, 1908, I. O. O. F., Eye, Three Lights and Scales."

The work is done entirely with a pocket knife and shows much skill, the letters, which are cut from pearl and embedded in the wood, being almost as perfect as the sign painter's letters.

WILL SOON UNSEAL MINE

Arrangements Completed for Re-entering the Cherry Colliery. Excitement.

Cherry, Ill., Feb. 1.—Suppressed excitement prevailed in Cherry last night among the relatives and friends of the 180 odd miners who lie dead in the St. Paul mine.

Tomorrow it probably will be known definitely whether the bodies can be brought to the surface or whether the mine will continue to be kept closed.

All arrangements were completed today for the reopening of the shaft early tomorrow. Richard Newsam, president of the state mine board, today personally superintended the final arrangements. He said that if the mine proved workable now it would create a record for the short time required to smother the fire.

The helmet men from the University of Illinois failed to reach Cherry today as expected, but they are scheduled to arrive early tomorrow, ready to try the interior of the mine.

ABOUT DOLLAR CHECKS.

The Evening News—and almost every newspaper in the country—printed a dispatch some time ago that after a certain date it would be contrary to law for any person to issue a check for less than one dollar. There have been several denials recently of the existence of such a law, and we publish the following one which is by Leslie J. Lyon, assistant United States district attorney:

"There is no law against issuing a check for less than a dollar in payment of a debt or obligation, and never has been." This was a statement made yesterday by Assistant United States District Attorney Leslie J. Lyon, who continued: "The law which was passed in 1862 on that point had reference only to banks issuing notes, bills and mediums of exchange and circulation, and never meant checks at all. It is an old banking act which has long since been out of date, when the original was repealed by the banking act under which we are now carrying on our financial affairs."

"This section of an act, approved July 17, 1862, authorizing payment in stamps and prohibiting the circulation of notes of less denomination and after August 1, 1862, no corporation, banking house, firm or individual should make, issue or circulate any check, etc., for a less sum than one dollar, intending them to circulate at money or to circulate or be used in lieu of the lawful money of the United States. It is clear, therefore, that this section refers only to persons, firms and corporations doing a banking business, which are authorized to issue circulation mediums. It has no reference whatever to the issuance of checks by private individuals in the payment of debts or personal obligations."

tions. It applies only to the issuance of bank notes and other forms which are intended to circulate, generally, money."

STATE BRIEFS.

Tacumseh, Ok., Feb. 1.—Little May, the 4 year old daughter of W. L. Johnson of this city, was so seriously burned that her life is despaired of. The child was at the home of her grandparents near Shawnee, and was out in the woods where her grandfather was burning brush. While the grandfather had gone to the house for something the little one's clothing had caught fire and before her grandfather could reach her she was horribly burned from shoulders to feet. Her greatest injuries are on her limbs and back, and while there is some hope of saving her life she is in critical condition.

Stillwater, Okla., Feb. 1.—Pursuant to the action of the City Council last week Mayor Rogers has issued a proclamation calling for an election of eight freeholders whose duty it will be to draft a charter for the proposed new city government to be submitted to the people later. The election will be held Feb. 15. The Mayor suggests that committeemen of the various parties call ward meetings for the nomination of candidates in order that the expense of holding a primary may be avoided.

Lawton, Ok., Feb. 1.—In the matter of the Hanson-Boyle mayoralty contest Judge Johnson late tonight took under advisement a petition to have the ballot boxes opened in the Second Fourth and Fifth wards.

McAlester, Ok., Feb. 1.—Will Turner, charged with the murder of Austin Thomas, Dec. 23, was tried in the Superior Court today and acquitted, the trial lasting less than one hour, the evidence sustaining the plea of self-defense.

Tulsa, Ok., Jan. 31.—The Creek and Okmulgee County Medical Societies met with the Tulsa County Medical Society here Saturday. The meeting was largely attended and many prominent speakers participated in the program, among whom were Dr. W. T. Tilley, president of the State Board of Medical Examiners; Dr. Edwin De Barr, state chemist; Dr. J. C. Mahr, state superintendent of health and Dr. C. L. Reeder, Tulsa county superintendent of health.

El Reno, Ok., Feb. 1.—The $80,000 bonds recently voted by El Reno have been sold to W. A. Mason of Chicago, who paid a premium of $2,034 and accrued interest from date of issue for a period of acceptance. The bond issue is for a period of twenty years at 5 per cent.

WILLS PORTER A FORTUNE.

She Shows Her Gratitude.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 1.—John S. Andrews of Sault Ste. Marie has been willed $100,000. Before coming to Canada, Andrews was a porter on the London & Southwestern railway. He saved an aged woman from falling from the platform onto the track in front of an approaching train. The matter was entirely forgotten by Andrews, who has been working in a lumber camp near the Soo during the winter, until a notification reached him that he was heir to a fortune of $20,000.

Mrs. C. W. Briles left the city for Guthrie.

UNCLE JOE HAS DECLARED SELF

WANTS IT UNDERSTOOD HE IS A CANDIDATE.

Uses Harsh Language in Making His Statement, But Uses No Cuss Words.

(By Tab)

Washington, Feb. 1.—"Listen, now, boys, while make my ninety-seventh vow that I have no intention whatever of retiring! Of the vast multitude of insinuations that have come from my enemies, the least deserved of all is that I will surrender when I have not been licked."

So spoke Uncle Joe. But, as he spoke, there was a certain merry twinkle in the eye which seemed to indicate that your sly "Uncle Joseph" either had his fingers crossed or something concealed up his sleeve. And to make the situation more complex, even as Mr. Cannon was speaking as above the word was being passed out by his friends that "Speaker Cannon will positively not run again; this is authentic." This latter statement carried with it the declaration that "Uncle Joe" had decided to throw his support to Martin E. Olinstead of Pennsylvania.

What is "Uncle Joe's" great secret? What is the mystery that this political Sphinx of 1910 is holding from the public. These vexatious questions are worryinb more than a few politicians of all parties. Does "Uncle Joe" really intend to try for the speakership again? Is he to be an issue in the approaching congressional campaign, or isn't he to be? It is as plain as day that someone has been crossing the wires on the public. And not one of the reactionaries seems to be the least bit anxious to clarify the atmosphere as to "Uncle Joe" and the speakership of the next congress. "The gentleman from Illinois" goes on repeating he will not retire, (with a sly grin for each deposition), while the speaker's stool (vigilant continue the monotonous chant: "Uncle Joe will not run again; this is authentic" Uncle Joe will not run again; this is authentic!" In the meantime the congressional elections are drawinb nearer and nearer.

101 RANCH BUYING THINGS.

The Oklahoma Showmen in the Open Market.

The following dispatch comes from Corry, Pa., dated Saturday: "Every circus of repute was represented by either owner or agent at the sale of the Cole Brothers shows here today. The independent organizations were pitted against the socialized circus trust and were either successful in outbidding it or making the allied organizations pay big prices for what they got. John and Alfred T. Ringling, representing the syndicate shows, were present and had a number of followers bidding for them. "Jones Brothers, independent, got a large number of the cages and wagons and some of the cars. Joe O. Miller and Edward Arlington of the 101 Ranch Wild West show bought a large amount of railroad equipment. Dr. Potter, representing the New York Hippodrome, secured some of the best of the horses. The Ringlings and Bartel, a New York animal man, got the best of the menagerie. "The highest price paid for an elephant was $1,500 and the lowest $500. The latter price was for Queen who has not a good reputation. Camels sold for from $65 to $375. One pair of Bengal tigers brought $1,500, a black maned lion sold for $600 and his mate for $350."

CARD GAMES NOT HARMFUL.

Youngstown Minister Also Says He Loves a Horse Race.

Youngstown, O., Feb. 1.—Rev. Abner L. Fraser, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church, takes exception to what Evangelist Billy Sunday says about card playing.

Mr. Fraser says it is no worse to play a game with the ace, jack, etc., than it was to play with matched cards or authors. He further said he did not believe a man had a right to preach against dancing. "People prate against horse racing," said Mr. Fraser; "for my part I love a beautiful horse and see no harm in a horse race for pure sport."

Mr. Fraser said the harm in such things comes from carrying them to excess. However, he said that attending religious meetings might become wrongful under the same conditions. He declared it was wrong for women to go to religious meetings to the neglect of their homes and children.

Sports

GOSSIP OF THE BALL PLAYERS.

Hans Wagner has postponed the annual announcement of his retirement.

Hughie Duffy says that the Yankees have secured a mighty clever catcher in Mitchell, and that he will make good as sure as he is given a chance.

Arthur McCabe is pretty sure to be a regular in the Reds' outfield this season.

The Atlanta club will carry but thirteen players this season. That's counted a lucky number in some.

Tommy Leach and Fred Clarke have both requested President Dreyfus to arrange the new infield at Forbes park so that they could see home plate. Both men claim that the grade was so steep that they could not do this last season.

Rube Waddell, the eccentric one, has a protegee, and he predicts for him a bright future. He is Robert Jenny of the St. Genevieve (Md.) team. He is a right hander and weighs 190 pounds. He has speed, control, and a fast-breaking drop in his delivery.

Wonder what the Philadelphia club hired Charley Dootin as manager for? President Fogel is making all the deals and all the plans for the playing end of the club for next season. He has determined to bat Grant third instead of at the top of the list. He thinks the change will make Grant a 300 hitter.

Manager Clark Griffith of the Cincinnati National league baseball team today announced the sale of Pitcher Samuel Smith to the Toronto team of the Eastern league.

Eddie Collins, the star second baseman of the Athletics, has been struck out by Cupid. The hard-hitting player is reported to be engaged to Miss Babel Harriet Doane of Oakview, Pa. Miss Doane, who is a graduate of the Friends' Select school, is an enthusiastic baseball roofer. She met Collins a couple of years ago, soon after he joined the Athletics.

Vaughan, the big left hander who will work for the New York Americans this year, struck out 175 batters in twenty-seven games while with Macon in the South Atlantic league last season.

Try as Ty Cobb may he will have difficulty in equalinb the base-stealing record made by Harry Stovey. The veteran was playing with the Athletics in 1889 when he established the record of 156 steals.

GOSSIP OF THE FIGHTERS.

Jimmy Walsh of Boston fought six lively rounds to a draw with Patsy Brannigan at Pittsburg. Brannigan was able to hold his own for the first four rounds. In the preliminary Joe Getz of Johnston, Pa., knocked out "Kid" Myers of Chicago in the second round.

Jim Jeffries, Frank Gotch and Dr. Roker are going to Hot Springs immediately after the close of their schedule, about Feb. 15, and the former champion heavyweight will do his preliminary training there for the Johnson fight. Gotch and Roker will appear on a programme during their stay at the Springs.

Frankie Nell was given the decision over Young Britt in the thirteenth round before the Eureka Athletic club of Baltimore. Up to the time that the bout was stopped by the referee and Britt disqualified for fouling, the contest was an even affair. In the twelfth and thirteenth rounds Britt resorted to wrestling, and the men were on the canvas as much as they were on their feet and Britt was disqualified.

English "Jack" O'Brien, claimer of the welterweight championship of the world, and Joe Walcott, the ex-champion, have signed articles of agreement to fight ten rounds. Jack Johnson is looking after Walcott. O'Brien and Johnson met in Toronto, Ont., and talked matters over. Walcott insisted on fighting in Boston, but O'Brien favors Buffalo as a good place to settle the difference of opinion. Walcott is now with Johnson's combination.

Although Phil Brock, the Cleveland light weight, set all the pace in the early rounds of his fight with Fighting Dick Hyland of San Francisco at Tommy Ryan's Memphis Athletic club, the boy from the coast came back strong in the last four rounds, forcing most of the fighting and hammering the Ohioan into retreat, which must have caused Referee Ryan to declare the eight-round contest a draw.

Another Cannon.

Mrs. O. E. Cannon of Whitesboro, Texas, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Currie on 17th street is the proud possessor of a brand new 10-pound boy, since Monday. No relation to Uncle Joe, thank you, for the youngster repudiated Cannonism and the house rules as soon as he arrived.

Plans of Chicago, Mobile and New Orleans Railroad.
New Orleans, La., Feb. 1.—Definite and seemingly authoritative statement was made yesterday concerning plans of the Chicago, Mobile and New Orleans Railroad, of which J. S. Berg is president, which means the establishment of a new trunk line into New Orleans with links in Mobile, Memphis, Chicago and St. Louis. Berg has been here for several days. Negotiations for the Mississippi Central have apparently reached successful conclusion. The Goodyear Road (New Orleans and Great Northern) is another link in the system. It is believed that the Goodyears, who own vast timber tracts in Louisiana and Mississippi, have made the new system possible.

REPORTED THAT REJECTED BID-DER HAS EMPLOYED ATTY'S.
Refuses to Make Statement This Afternoon—Councilmen Not Uneasy.

E. C. D'Yarnette, the Oklahoma City contractor whose bid on the local paving contract was rejected by the council at the meeting last night, is today circulating a petition among the property owners attempting to get signers.
Mr. D'Yarnette advised the council last night that he expected to take the matter of rejecting his bid to court; and it was stated this afternoon that he had employed two attorney firms, one of this city and one Oklahoma City firm.
When asked about the matter by an Evening News representative this afternoon Mr. D'Yarnette refused to confirm or deny the report saying he desired not to make a statement at this time.
It is probable, however, that any legal action contemplated hinges on the success of the petition which he desires to be signed by the owners of property.
Several members of the Council were interviewed on the subject and each of them stated that the Oklahoma City man had absolutely no case.

Kansas Brothers to Have City Conveniences in the Country.

Junction City, Kan., Feb. 1.—Cyrus Acker, a farmer living a few miles west of Junction City, has awarded the contract for a complete waterworks system on his farm. The supply is furnished by a windmill and the water is pumped into a large steel pressure tank. A force pump takes the water from this tank through pipes to all parts of the big farm house, to the lawn, and to places where needed in the barn cattle and hog sheds.
M. J. Acker, a brother of Cyrus Acker, will have a duplicate of this plant installed on his farm just as soon as the work at his brother's place is finished. These men have from year to year been putting in improvements at their farm homes that provide just as many modern conveniences as can be found in the best of city homes.

MRS. GUNNESS FOUND AGAIN.
This Time the Multi-Murderess Is Located in Minnesota.

Willmar, Minn., Feb. 1.—Mrs. Belle Gunness, fat, heavy featured, alleged multi-murderess and siren, who lured many northwestern farmers to their doom at the notorious "Gunness farm" near Laporte, Ind., after a three years' disappearance, has, it is believed, been found as a housekeeper for Gust Kirby, a farmer, fourteen miles northeast of Willmar.
This information, credited by Indiana police, and which may end in one of the most sensational revelations in the history of crime, has been given the Willmar and Laporte authorities throughout the past month by Samuel Kirby of Mankato, Minn., a wealthy farmer and brother of Gust Kirby.

BALLINGER FAVOR- ED VALIDATE BILL

CHARGES MADE AGAINST HIM BY GLAVIS.
Pinchet Will Appear Before Investigating Committee in Washington.

At the close of the hearing Senator Nelson called attention to the fact that the committee was participating "feebly" and blindly, as there was no one present to cross-examine as the representative of "the other side."

Would Validate Claims.
Cross-examined by Senator Fletcher of Florida, Glavis said today that Mr. Ballinger, while commissioner of the land office, had appeared before committees of congress and by his testimony had favored a bill that would validate all of the Alaskan coal claims. He also said that an affidavit filed September 4, 1908, by Clarence Cunningham, had on it a backing that bore the firm name with which Judge Ballinger was connected.
Glavis said that when Mr. Ballinger asked him not to proceed with his investigation of the coal claims until after election because of the slowness of campaign contributions, no one was present to over hear the conversation.

TOO MANY FOR SHAWNEE

Shawnee Herald's Comment on the Basket Ball Game Played Here Saturday.

Below is what the Herald says of the basket ball game played in this city last Saturday:
The girls basket ball team of Shawnee met with defeat in the game with the Ada Normal school at Ada, Saturday afternoon. The final score stood 18 to 10.
The local team suffered from imposition of free throws awarded the Ada team by reason of fouls chalked against them on account of being out of bounds on the slippery floor at Ada.

A GAVEL MADE WITH KNIFE

C. M. Chauncey Owner of One Manufactured by Prisoner in the Penitentiary.

C. M. Chauncey of the I. O. O. F. in his travels over the state has picked up a gavel which was made by a prisoner—an Odd Fellow—while serving time in a penitentiary. The gavel is of lignumvitae wood and the inscriptions which are a model of pearl, are as follows: "Poteau lodge, No. 27, 1908, I. O. O. F., Eye, Three Lips and Scales."
The work is done entirely with a pocket knife and shows much skill, the letters, which are cut from pearl and embedded in the wood, being almost as perfect as the sign painter's letters.

WILL SOON UNSEAL MINE

Arrangements Completed for Re-entering the Cherry Colliery.
Excitement.

Cherry, Ill., Feb. 1.—Suppressed excitement prevailed in Cherry last night among the relatives and friends of the 130 odd miners who lie dead in the St. Paul mine.

Tomorrow it probably will be known definitely whether the bodies can be brought to the surface or whether the mine will continue to be kept closed.

All arrangements were completed today for the reopening of the shaft early tomorrow. Richard Newsam, president of the state mine board, today personally superintended the final arrangements. He said that if the mine proved workable now it would create a record for the short time required to smother the fire.

The helmet men from the University of Illinois failed to reach Cherry today as expected, but they are scheduled to arrive early tomorrow, ready to try the interior of the mine.

From Lucile's Diary

It occurred to me a few weeks ago that I should like to identify myself with some charitable work. I think it is broadening to one's character to take part in any good movement of that sort, and as nearly all the fashionable people whom I know are interested in one or another of the philanthropic societies of the city I determined to join one.

I heard that a member of the "Dix Amies" had resigned on account of moving out of town and I determined to ask Ruth Ritchey to nominate me for membership in that exclusive little circle of ten friends.

"You know, Lucile," said Ruth rather doubtfully when I spoke of the matter, "all the girls in our club are hard workers. We not only attend the meetings faithfully, but we pledge ourselves to do our utmost for the charities we assist. Just now we are trying to raise a considerable sum of money to give at Christmas time to worthy charities."

"I'd be glad to contribute $25 if that would be any help," I remarked, casually.

"Indeed it would and it's awfully good of you, Lucile," Ruth's manner was perceptibly warmer. "Of course it would be very nice to have you in the Dix Amies, but I wasn't sure you'd like—I mean, have time for the work. You know we are getting up a bazaar now."

"I just love such work," I cried, enthusiastically. "Is it to be a fancy dress affair?"

"We did think of wearing peasant costumes,"

"Of course then we shall have to have the peasant costumes."

A few days later I was notified that I had been elected to membership in the Dix Amies. I at once asked father for the amount of the initiation fee, for it is quite impossible for me to stretch my allowance beyond my usual expenses.

"And father," I said after he had written the check, "I am extremely anxious to contribute to the charity fund which the club is raising for a Christmas offering and if you will give me $25 I'll feel that you've made me a very lovely and generous Christmas present and I won't expect any other gift from you or mother."

Why, Lucile are you sure you won't be disappointed when all the ribbons and tissue paper are being strewn around Christmas morning?" he asked.

"No, indeed I shall be only too happy in thinking how much good my present from you will do others."

Father dipped his pen in the ink and when he had written another check he handed it to me with a smile that plainly showed he was pleased with my unselfishness. Mother told me afterward that he was quite touched. It's a real pleasure to me to feel that I have won the approval of my dear father.

Notwithstanding that I argued strongly in favor of fancy dress at the bazaar the girls decided against it. Even Ruth said the money and trouble that fancy costumes cost might better be expended upon the worthy charities we desired to help.

The only fun I had at the bazaar was in displaying a beautiful lapis lazuli necklace which I put on. Walking around the room I tried to induce some one to buy it. But no one appeared to be in the mood to spend $30 for even such an attractive ornament. Just before the bazaar closed I went back to the jewelry booth and told Ruth, who was in charge there, that I feared it was hopeless to try to sell it.

"Well, may be it will go if we mark it down to $25," she said, thoughtfully. "We should still make a small profit, for the dealer let us have it for whole sale price."

"That seems quite a bargain," I said. "Yes, of course it's too bad to make so little on the necklace, but it would be better to let it go at that than not to sell it at all."

"I'll take it myself, Ruth," I said, with sudden determination.

"Oh, will you?" How nice!" she exclaimed, as I gave her the money. The day after the bazaar the Dix Amies had a business meeting, but I was too tired to go. Ruth came in to see me on her way home from it and told me that we had made a considerable sum.

"Why, I have already paid in that $25," I answered.

"You have?"

"When I bought the lapis lazuli necklace."

"Why, Lucile," explained Ruth, "you must know that only a small part of the price of that necklace came to the club."

"Well, you seemed very glad to sell it and I supposed I was doing the club a favor when I bought it," I explained.

"It certainly was a great bargain and I congratulate you on getting it, for I am sure it is very becoming to you," said Ruth, laughing in her disagreeable way. Then she went almost without a word.

Disturbing the Family Peace

"There was a time when I thought mine a well-regulated household," remarked the tired-eyed mother of four smiling youthfully in spite of the silver in her hair and the lines of care around her mouth. "When a question was at issue each of us conceded a trifle till we got into the habit of moving about as peacefully as the stars in their courses. But last Christmas I was ruthlessly awakened to the fact that my flock has bellicose instincts."

The tired-eyed mother sighed and began to explain.

"Our house is so small, you know, that we're packed in as snugly as peas in a pod. Every Christmas we had been unlucky enough to be deluged with from forty to fifty books, with the result that the house was overflowing. Every flat surface, no matter what its original duty might have been, has been compelled to do service as a book stand. As last Christmas was approaching, we decided in family council not to give books to one another, for if we received just one more it would have to be put on the pantry shelf."

"In spite of our care, however, one book managed to break the blockade. Annette received a popular novel gorgeously bound."

"Though we were all vitally interested in what we received ourselves, each of us managed within the next day or so to take a sly peep between the covers of Annette's book. A few nights after Christmas the trouble came to a head. It was cold and rainy, and the children were all at home to dinner, the first time for weeks."

"Jack, he's the oldest, jumped up from the table before Annie brought in the dessert."

"He made direct for the library, where I heard a rustling of papers on the table, and then the familiar creaking of the old springs on the divan as Jack threw himself in his customary place. Father looked up suspiciously and with an alert air. Then he did a strange thing. He shoved his chair back from the table, and, without stopping to say grace marched into the library. I listened intently."

"It seemed only a minute till Priscilla and Ed, the twins, jumped up from the table together and made a beeline for the library. My heart beat faster. Even the clock seemed to be ticking anxiously as I listened. Ed, you know, is at that combustible age when one often is more strenuous than elegant."

"Pig!" It was Ed, hissing at the entirely unconscious Jack.

"Pig!" you there!" repeated Ed.

"You don't expect to keep it all evening, I hope," declared imperious Priscilla, with well-forged surprise. "Surely," she went on in a queenly fashion, "the rest of us have some rights. Anyway, and there was a half sob in her voice, Ed and I were just crazy to see whom she married and we—"

"Let the old pig alone," comforted Ed. Then I heard the leaf of the card table as it snapped into position.

"In the meantime Annette was having a one-sided consultation with me as to how her new white dress was to be made. I was trying to lengthen out our talk, but it has been so many years since I have dared to make even a suggestion to my grown-up daughter that my ruse was a pitiful failure. Annette settled all my objections in a peremptory fashion, and then sailed majestically into the library with an ominous rustle to her skirts. For the first time in my life I regretted that Annette was to spend the evening in the bosom of her family. The new book belonged to Annette."

"But it's mine—it was given to me," came to me in Annette's icy accents.

"It's mine now, since possession is nine points of the law," chuckled Jack, who is studying to be a lawyer.

"It's always wise to obey Annette. She bounced to the piano and began pounding out Chopin's funeral march."

"During the bombardment I crept into the room and took a copy of my favorite, Mrs. Browning—We were the most suspicious looking crowd. All of us were pretending to be busy, and all were secretly watching Jack."

"Suddenly the telephone bell rang. 'Jack!' Annette announced, who had answered the bell, 'It's for you.'"

"Jack sprang from the divan, ten eyes following him. Father glanced furtively over the top of his paper. The twins forgot their game. Annette was tired of the funeral march and I was false to Aurora Leigh."

"Yes," Jack was calling, sweetly, "I'll be there in 15 minutes."

"Presently Jack came to the door dressed for the street."

"Where did you put the book?" demanded Annette.

"Book?" temporized Jack. "Book? Are you folks all waiting for it? That's too bad; it's great. But I'm going to take a run over to Helen's, and I promised to take it along."

The tired-eyed little mother smiled determinedly. "Next Christmas I shall see that we each get at least one book apiece," she said.

RE-INDICTMENT IN CHICAGO SOUGHT

McGovern, Redleske and Others Are the Victims—Betrayed by Employee.

Chicago Ill., Feb. 1.—New indictments based on the alleged sewer graft involving $254,000, will be sought against Michael H. McGovern, Paul Redleske and the nine other men, against whom true bills have been returned on charges of conspiracy to obtain money from the city by false pretenses.

States Attorney Wayman probably will offer additional evidence, which may involve others in the scandal, but the main object in again seeking indictments is to make sure that there is no loophole by which the defendants can escape on technicalities.

Mr. Wayman held a conference with his assistants, Thomas Marshall and Victor Arnold and the indictment already returned was carefully gone over.

Mr. Wayman was satisfied with the document, but said that as an extra precaution another indictment probably would be sought.

"The first indictment," said Mr. Marshall, "was for the purpose mainly of causing the arrest of the defendants. The new one will be more detailed and specific."
